LUNCHEON

“Biden or Trump - the consequences for the US-Swiss economic relationship “

Jens Korte

Wall Street Correspondent, SRF

Thursday, May 30th, 2024

Haus zum Rüden Zürich,

12:10pm (Apéro and Registration from 11:40am)

As a trained economist, Jens Korte reports frequently from the New York Stock Exchange and has been on the trading floor since the late 1990s. He has lived through and reported on the biggest issues: the terror attacks of 9/11, the dotcom bust, the financial crisis, the election of Donald Trump, the pandemic, the great recovery. Through it all Jens kept his cool and reported his take on the events as he saw them.

Jens covers Wall Street not only for TV and radio, he also writes about the biggest economy in the world for NZZ and Austria's Börsenkurier. His annual speaking engagements in Switzerland and Germany are known for their hands-on approach. Jens uses the experience and observations from his daily life as a journalist and father to explain the nuances of the US – a unique perspective his clients, among them the biggest financial and media institutions in Switzerland and Germany, have appreciated and relied on for years. His first book, titled “Save Wall Street- why we need the gamers!” was published in 2014.

We look forward to your participation.
